FIVE DROWNED SATURDAY IN THE RED RIVER

(Special to the Bulletin)

Winnipeg, Aug. 13.—One of the most appalling drowning accidents that has happened in the Northwest for years occurred Saturday evening in the Red River off River Park, Winnipeg, when five young people were drowned by the capsizing of a steam launch.

It appears that a fairly large party had arranged to hold a picnic at the park and some were to go by water and some by road. Those who had gone by land were already there and were waiting for the water party on the river bank when the horror happened. C. P. Foxwell, of the C. P. R. office here, had invited Mrs. C. J. Brown, wife of the clerk of the city of Winnipeg, her three children, Ethel Brown, aged 19, Myrtle, aged 13, and Ernest 15, Miss May White, aged 20, and Miss Roby Thompson, the eldest unmarried daughter of John Thompson, the veteran undertaker of this city, to take the journey by river. Opposite the park landing stage, in sight of their friends, who were waving handkerchiefs on the bank to welcome their arrival, the Foxwell launch, a 14 footer, ran into a sunken pile, which had been a boom anchor and was submerged six inches. The boat, which was not on an even keel, her occupants being mostly in the stern, reared up and capsized on top of its occupants. The four girls and the boy Ernest were drowned, none, with the exception of Ruby Thompson, ever coming to the surface. Foxwell, after a mighty struggle ,managed to hold Mrs. Brown above the surface until a passing canoe picked them up. Alex. Cheney, the eighth member of the party, had hold of Miss Thompson, but they both sank three times and he lost consciousnes and when rescued by a boatman, his little companion had sunk. The saved are Mrs. Brown, Foxwell and Cheney. The former two are ill in bed with the effects of the accident, Mrs. Brown ebing in a particularly precarious state on account of the loss of her family and her recovery is doubtful. City Clerk Brown is prostrated by the shock. Thompson and Brown are both old timers and prominent Masons. The funerals will likely be held today, Monday.

The flag is at half mast at the city hall. There will be an inquest. A ball game was in progress at the park at the time and some one rushed onto the grand stand screaming for a doctor. This stampeded the crowd which rushed to the floating landing stage, where people were at work resuscitating Mrs. Brown. The crowd was too heavy for the float, and but for the prompt action and management of some cooler heads, the whole mass might have slid off into twelve feet of water. Eventually the crowd was driven back and another catastrophe averted.

TAX RITE 12 1-2 MILLS

Medicine Hat, Aug. 10.—At a special meeting of the city council yesterday the tax rate for 1906 was fixed at 12 1-2 mills on the dollar.

Engineers are in town today completing the arrangements for adding six new stalls to the round house and erecting the buildings for the new machine shops and furnaces for the manufacture of locomotive springs, which through the medium of natural gas are being turned out now at a saving of four dollars per spring on the former cost.

TOOK THE MEN BACK

(Special to the Bulletin)

Yorkton, Sask, Aug. 12. On Saturday detachments of the Royal North West Mounted Police conveyed the remainder of the Doukhobors back to their villages fifty miles north of here. There were about twenty women in the party. When the men were sent to Regina a couple of weeks ago the women were left here and, having no means of support, the authorities thought it best to take them back to villages of their own people. Yorkton has now no Doukhobors within fifty miles.

A NEW STATION

Port Arthur, Aug. 11.—This city is to have a station of the Dominion De Forest system of wireless telegraphy. Yesterday, James Morrison, who has charge of the installation of the system, arrived in Port Arthur. He said that it is the intention of the company to erect stations at both Port Arthur and Fort William, which will be two of a system to cover the chain of Great Lakes, and will serve as a valuable aid to navigation. Already stations have been established at Cleveland, Buffalo, Sarnia, Detroit and the Soo.

(Special to the Bulletin)

Fielding, Sask., Aug. 11.—The farm house of D. Stewart, a new settler, was burned and the contents destroyed here. Loss $1,000.

GOOD PRICE OFFERED.

Raymond, Alta., Aug. 6—The Alberta Pacific elevator people offer Mr. Silver between 60 and 65 cents per bushel for his wheat for October delivery. They are shiping to Kakota and Nebraska, the home of the Turkey red, the Alberta Red, which through its improvement on the parent stock, is greatly preferable for seed, demonstrating the superiority of this country for wheat production. E. E. Thompson, of High River, made Mr. Silver a flat offer of 75 cents per bushel for 10,000 bushels, delivery to be made as soon as the grain was threshed.

NOT AVERSE TO UNION STATION PROPOSAL

President and Prominent Officials of the C. N. R. in the City To-day.----Company Is Making Preparations to Handle the Grain Shipments.

The party includes in addition to the president, Mr. Aitken, manager of the Bank of Scotland, London, Eng.; Mr. Gray, of the Pierpont Morgan Syndicate, New York; Col. Davidson, president of the Saskatchewan Land Company; Mr. G. Carruthers of J. Carruthers & Co., Montreal; Senator T. O. Davis of Prince Albert; Mr. E. A. James, general manager; Mr. M. H. McLeod, chief engineer; Mr. A Shields, master mechanic; Mr. J. Abbot, superintendent of this division, and Mr. G. J. Campbell, secretary to the general manager.

The president is on his way to the Coast, and incidentally came over the C.N.R. on a tour of inspection.

In conversation with the Bulletin this morning Mr. MacKenzie said that he was pleased to see the substantial growth the towns along the C. N. R. were making. He was particularly impressed with the substantial and permanent character of the buildings being erected which showed the people had faith in the future of the country.

The growth of the country was marvellous and the C. N. R. were doing all they could to meet the increasing needs of the growing West.

The company were exerting their best efforts to put the roadbed into the best condition, but the heavy rains this season and the character of the soil in which the roadbed is located, coupled with the difficulty in obtaining suitable ballasting material made the task one of peculiar difficulty. Work on the line west was proceeding in a satisfactory manner, over 30 miles is now graded.

The company are preparing to move the wheat crop, and recently have added 1,600 new box cars, and 10 engines to their equipment, which the president thinks will be sufficient to meet the demands of the traffic.

Questioned concerning their plans of a union station here the president said nothing definite has been done, but the company were not averse to a union station with the G.T.P. or C. P. R. If the other railways had been here earlier the question would be much different, and would have facilitated such action on the part of the C.N.R.

Mr. MacKenzie went to Cooking Lake yesterday in Mayor May's auto car and expressed himself as pleased with the lake as a summer resort.

Mr. Mackenzie leaves for the South today at 16 K and will be accompanied by Mr. Gray and Mr. Aitken. The rest of the party will return east over the C.N.R. tomorrow morning.

LEGISLATIVE TOUR ENDED

Trip of Members Through South Ended at Calgary on Saturdry Night

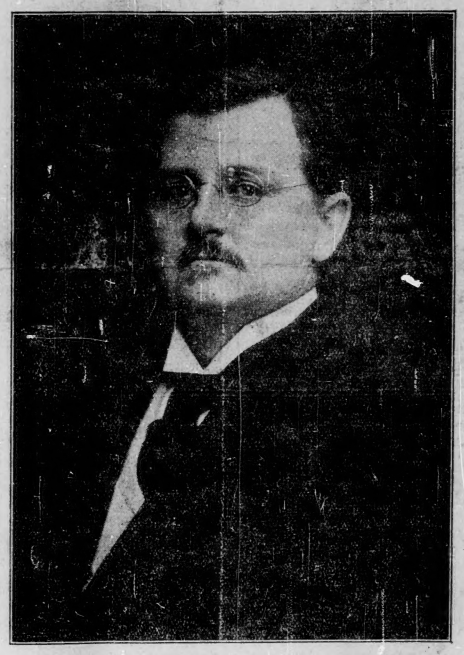

Calgary, Aug. 11.—The Legislative trip was completed at Medicine Hat last evening and the special train left at midnight for Calgary where the party arrived this morning. The trip was a great success. Much credit is due Hon. W. H. Cushing, who had charge of the party for the satisfactory manner in which all arrangements were carried out. The territory covered was very large and nothing but most systematic arrangements could have run the excursion on anything like schedule time. The receptions accorded the party everywhere were very pleasant and were also extremely practical, consisting largely of drives through the country to see the growing crops. The trip has been a revelation to many and will be of very great value to members of the legislature. Yesterday the party was driven around Lethbridge for a couple of hours. Then they assembled in the Methodist church where Acting Mayor Robertson presided. Mr. C. F. B. Conneybear president of the board of trade delivered the address of welcome and the Lieut.-Governor, Premier and Minister of Public Works replied. A short musical program was also given. The party then took the train at twelve o'clock for Tabor where a brief stay was made ,then going on to Medicine Hat. The gas city did itself proud in its reception. Mayor Forester assisted by Mr. C. R. Mitchell and other leading citizens had arrangements in charge. The visitors were given a most delightful drive about the city and in the evening were banquetted at the Assiniboia hotel where one of the best tables that has ever been seen in Alberta was laid for them. Dinner over the Mayor proposed a toast to his Majesty ,the King, followed by a toast to the Lieut.-Governor to which Hon. Mr. Bulyea replied in his usual happy manner. Mr. C. R. Mitchell proposed a toast to the judiciary of Alberta which elicited an entertaining speech from Chief Justice Sifton. The toast to the Legislature was proposed by the Mayor and replied to by Premier Rutherford, Hon. W. H. Cushing and Hon. W. T. Finlay. The next toast was to the ladies and was proposed by Mr. C. R. Mitchell and replied to by Duncan Marshall. Toasts were then proposed to the people of Medicine Hat for their splendid reception and was replied to by Alderman Smyth. The assembly broke up with three rousing cheers for Hon. W. T. Finlay and Medicine Hat. The party retired to their cars about eleven thirty expressing the highest opinions of the generous hospitality of the home city of the Minister of Agriculture.

The entire northern party left for home this morning with the exception of Senator Talbot Mr. and Mrs. Puffer Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Marshall and Miss Jean McIsaac. The last three will spend Sunday in Banff, returning home on Monday.

WOOLEN MILLS BURNED.

Gleph, Ont., Aug. 10—Fire yesterday morning gutted Cartledge's woollen mills here. The loss is estimated at $16,000, and is partly covered by insurance.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

Mr Herbert Myrick, president of the Orange Judd Company and Phelps Publishing company is a visitor to the city today. The companies with which Mr. Myrick is connected are the publishers of several widely circulated agricultural papers in the United States, including the American Agriculturist, New York, Orange Judd Farmer, Chicago, New England Homestead, Springfield, Mass.; Farm and Home, Springfield, Mass., and the Good Housekeeping magazines.

Mr. Myrick is on an extended trip throughout the Canadian West. Edmonton he considers the Spokane of western Canada, the metropolis of an inland empire.

Mr. Myrick arrived in the city on Saturday and was taken in hand by Sec. Fisher of the board of trade and driven through the country east of the city. Hs observation fully convinced him of the agricultural capabilities of the district. He leaves per C.P.R. this afternoon for the south.

SOLDIERS WILL NOT FIRE ON TURBULENT PEASANTS

Grand Duke Nicholas Had Narrow Escape From Assassination at Hands of the Imperial Guards.

(Special to the Bulletin)

St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.—The Grand Duke Nicholas narrowly escaped assassination yesterday at the hands of the Imperial Guards in caamp at Krasnoyeselo. The Grand Duke was reviewing maneuvering and putting the troops through blank firing practice when suddenly he was startled by Bullets hissing about his head. Neither he nor his horse were touched. The command was given to cease firing and the regiments marched to the barracks where an investigation began and arrests were made. The accident theory is scouted.

The incident has caused the immediate change in the Emperor's plans of spending a week in camp.

The appeal of the members of the former Douma to the soldiers not to fire on their brothers the peasants has borne fruit in the shape of peaceful mutiny on the part of two thousand soldiers who have notified their officers that it will be useless for them to give orders to shoot peasants they have been sent to subdue. The authorities are worried, but they have not yet acted. The two mutinous regiments are the Morstrand and Morahand regiments of infantry recently sent into Vologuda province to put down the uprising. After receiving the soldiers def the officers advised St. Petersburg what had happened. The Government is afraid to arrest the rebellious soldiers.

EDMONTON RIFLE ASSOCIATION

The range being again in working order Saturday the 11th about a dozen members put in an appearance the heat being responsible for the absence of several who would otherwise have been present.

The new arrangement of targets being on the sliding instead of the revolving principle answer the purpose admirably and prove much quicker than the old method.

As the 500 yards targets were not quite ready for use the 200 yards small targets had to serve for the longer ranges, so there was no shooting at 600 yards. However, there was some very fair shooting considering the conditions, the scoring resulting as follows:

	200	500	Tl.
S. S. Brown	30	24	54
J. Carmichael	33	14	47
G. A. Reid	30	14	44

For that reason the enumerators, following the map, did not take in Victoria Park. The city will not proceed with the municipal census just now, because ths is not regarded as a fair season, many people living in Calgary being engaged in harvesting.

THE HAND OF MONOPOLY

The "fine Italian hand" of the C. P. R. strategist has made its appearance at Brandon, Manitoba, and thence comes the following despatch:

Brandon, Aug. 7—The city council at their regular meeting last night threshed out until after 1 o'clock this morning the different concessions asked for by the Brandon, Saskatchewan & Hudson Bay railway. The matter now is exactly in the same position as it was before, and the railway is no nearer getting their requests granted by the city council than ever they were. The council only a few days ago practically drove the Canadian Northern from this city by demanding that they should build subways and overhead bridges at street crossings, at the will of the council; and now in the face of a practically unanimous expression by the ratepayers in favor of granting all the requests, the majority of the aldermen are blocking every request made by the railway, and unless the ratepayers take the matter into their own hands, and force their representatives to vote as requested by those who elected them to office, it is quite probable that the Great Northern will also give Brandon the go-by. Three meetings of the council were held yesterday, at which Mr. James Fisher, of Winnipeg, was present, and the matter was eventually put in such shape as Mr. Fisher thought would receive the assent of the officers of the road.

At the evening session the council went into committee of the whole and took up a resolution which it was asked to pass clause by clause. Ald. Jeffery, one of the members opposing the requests, was appointed to the chair, Mayor Fleming taking his seat on the floor. This gave the mayor and his supporters in favor of granting the requests one of a majority, and the requests were nearly all approved with a few minor changes. The committee then rose to report, the mayor taking his seat, and a motion to adopt the report was defeated by one of a majority, Ald. Jeffrey voting with the nays. The matter will now be held in abeyance until the C.P.R. officials and other officials can be heard by the council. Those voting against the requests of the railway are Ald. Coldwell, Maley, Jeffrey, Evans and Birchall. Those in favor of granting the requests are Mayor Fleming, Ald. Harcourt, Clement, McKenzie and Middleton.

Mr. Fisher when seen after the meeting expressed himself as being greatly disappointed with the action of the council, who have acted directly opposite to the wishes of the citizens as expressed by the largely attended public meeting. Mr. Fisher stated that he did not know what action his company would take.

Thus from time to time does the tireless purpose of the great monopoly outcrop.

It is not so long since the C. P. R. phonographs throughout the West were squawking about the villainy of the G. T. P. in paralleling the line of the C. P. R. for a considerable distance west from Winnipeg. This it was represented would tend to the development of a series of centres along the new line which would draw the trade from the old established towns. What was really dreaded was not that the traffic would be lost to the established communities but it would be diverted from the established railway system.

A similar possibility was suggested at Brandon by the approach of the C.N.R. from the east and the Great Northern from the south and again the hand of the entrenched monpoly becomes apparent in a movement to exclude the invaders. The first rival has been temporarily checked and the better fate of the second is by no means assured.

That the C.P.R. should be opposed to railway competition is quite natural but because it is natural it is the highest tribute the company could pay to the general benefits of railway competition. The C.P.R. is in a splendid position to measure the consequences of railway competition to itself and its attitude toward competing railways is governed purely by its judgment of these consequences. The more vigorous therefore the fight the corporation wages against competition the better reasons must there be why the public should demand competition. The lesson the people of Brandon should draw from the present activity of the C.P.R. is that there are very substantial benefits to be secured by the admission of more railways. If they fail to learn the lesson which the C.P.R. is trying so hard to teach them they will receive and deserve just the treatment that company may be prepared to give them.

Blue Ribbon

BAKING POWDER.

Better than Soda and Sour Milk or Cream of Tartar

Because the acidity or sourness of different lots of sour milk is hardly ever the same, so the cook never knows just ho wmuch soda is needed to neatralize it. She can only GUESS, and guessing always means a chance of mistake. If too much soda is used, the biscuits will be yellow; if not enough, they will be sour.

With cream of tartar there is the same trouble, for the acid strength of fcommercial cream of tartar varies widely in different samples.

There is no guessing with Blue Ribbon Baking Powder, for the ingredients are proportioned with chemical exactness. You know EXACTLY how much to use.

Is the City Growing Westward?

The census returns show that the city is growing rapidly. The building permits tell the same story. The city is growing in every direction, but what part is making the most substantial growth?

Assuming that McDougall Avenue is the centre of the city, the actual figures as taken from the records of the building inspector would indicate not only a GREATER but a MORE SUBSTANTIAL growth in the Western part of the city. Up to the morning of August 10th the records show that building permits were taken out as follows—

	No. Permits	Valuation	Average Value
East McDougall Ave.	265	$316,300.00	$1,194.00
West McDougall Ave.	279	778,155.00	2,789.00

SCRIBES WERE MUCH PLEASED

Pennsylvania Men Carry Away Good Opinion of Western Canada.

Expressing a thousand thanks for many courtesies received during their journey to the coast and with unlimited expressions of wonder at the vast extent of country contributary to the city of Winnipeg in the west, the two hundred members of the Pennsylvania Editorial Association arrived in the city says the Winnipeg Free Press.

In their trip across the continent the editorial party followed much the same route as that traversed by Prince Arthur of Connaught in his tour of the west and it is declared by the editors that even the Prince could not have been treated more royally than their party by the residents of the various towns along the line.

A special feature of the outing which was much commented on by the visitors was the very pleasant entertainments provided by the smaller towns visited by the travellers. In several cases the entire population of these towns cooperated to make the visit of the editors a happy one and everything possible was done to minister to the comfort of the guests of the day.

During the time spent between Winnipeg and the coast two copies of a bulletin were issued by the executive officers of the association, one being produced in Vancouver B.C., and one in Winnipeg.

The Editorial column of the Bulletin published in Vancouver contains among other things a full and cordial expression of the feelings of the visitors to the west with reference to the entertainment provided for them in Canadian towns and cities and the courtesies extended by the Canadian Government and railways.

"As an illustration of the kindness shown us," said Erasmus Wilson, of the Pittsburg Gazette, to the Free Press today, "consider the town of Canora. Conora is only two years old. It has now a population of about two hundred people. On our arrival there we found that preparations had been made to entertain our entire party at dinner. A rustic bower had been erected and tables had been spread to accommodate all the expected guests. We understood that in order to furnish the tables with dishes for so large a party and make provision for changes, every cup, saucer, spoon, fork and other dish in town had been called into requisition.

"It is impossible to tell of the preparations made at each individual town," continued Mr. Wilson, "or to express adequately our appreciation of the kindness shown us. At the new town of Vermillion on the Canadian Northern, we were accorded a luncheon in the open air, and excellent addresses of welcome and greeting were delivered by citizens of that town.

"The new town of Lloydminster, the centre of the all British colony, interested us greatly. We enjoyed a very pleasant breakfast provided by the citizens of the town and saw something of the progress being made by the English people.

"While passing through this country Mr. C. W. Speer, superintendent of immigration for the Dominion Government, made very full explanation of the progress being made by this intergesting colony of Doukhobors, in whom the Society of Friends of Pennsylvania have been much interested. Mr. Speers from his great fund of practical knowledge of the settlement of the west, also told many incidents of very great interest regarding the progress and advancement of the numerous colonies established throughout your great country."

"The city of Prince Albert observed its civic holiday on the day of our arrival and made most extensive arrangements for our entertainment. We were to begin with a pleasure trip on steamers down the rivers taking breakfast on board. The steamer had been very gaily decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting, and all preparations made for a charming trip, but owing to some delay in arrival this portion of the days pleasure had to be given up entirely. John H. Wilson, secretary of the board of trade in Prince Albert was in charge of arrangements there and did everything in his power to make the day a happy one. Hundreds of photographs of Prince Albert and the surrounding country were provided for us, each of our party being given several of these photos. Conveyances were provided by the board of trade and we were driven throughout the city and surrounding country.

"In Victoria, B.C. we enjoyed a very by oHrner.

pleasant little meeting in the chamber of the provincial parliament. John R. Farr, former speaker of the house of representatives of the state of Pennsylvania, presided and short addresses were made by Mayor Marley, of Victoria, by Hon. Abraham E. Smith, United States consul at Victoria and by members of our executive.

"We enjoyed a very pleasant trolley ride through the city of Victoria, visited the provincial museum and saw all the sights of that beautiful residential city.

"At North Battleford the new town built north of old Battleford, a splendid banquet was provided for us and a drive was taken down to the old town. The drive was made in the twilight of the evening and was very much enjoyed by us all.

"On the way east we made a stop at Three Rivers. We were particularly interested in Three Rivers owing to the fact that the capital which is invested there in the plant of the Mundy Lumber company is from Bradford, Pa., which is the home of our secretary-treasurer, R. B. Hapgood. The mills were all decorated with flags in honor of our arrival and we spent a very pleasant half hour on the platform of the depot shaking hands with the people in charge of the mill.

"In Calgary we were exceedingly interested in the Indians who had come in from the reserves and who gave an exhibition at the grounds of the exposition. We had never seen any thing of the kind before and the racing and broncho riding interested us greatly.

"Calgary is undoubtedly one of the towns with a future and is said to be growing with great rapidity. The situation of it and its surroundings as well as those of Edmonton the capital of Alberta, are certainly very beautiful and attractive to the visitor.

"At Regina yesterday the board of trade drove us out to the Government House where we met the Governor and from Government House to the barracks of the R.N.W.M.P.. They sent beautiful boxes of candies for the ladies and cigars for the gentlemen.

"At Brandon last night we visited the experimental farm and enjoyed a band concert. A party was also held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Speers, and was attended by many of the visitors.

"Many other towns along the line of railway were visited by our party and in many of them great pains were taken to make our visit enjoyable. We cannot express too fully our appreciation of these kindnesses, or our pleasure over our trip. We think we are almost home again now that we are back in Winnipeg, of which we will always think with very great pleasure."

From the Semi-ready Style Book.

While the young men of Canada, quickly open to modern ideas, at once adopted the Semi-ready system of tailoring, the older and more conservative men soon became as enthusiastic about it.

Why pay $30 for a wait-to-order suit when you can get the same material better tailored for $20? You may see just how its looks made up before you buy.
Semi-ready Suits are finished to measure in two hours after the order is booked. Every suit is fashioned to fit some particular physical type.

SEMI-READY WARDROBE

JAPANESE HONOR GENERAL

General Oku Succeeds General Baron as Chief of Staff.

General OKu, who has been appointed chief of the General Staff of the Japanese army in succession to General Baron Kodama is a Samurai, or Knight of the Otta clan of the famous western province of Satsuma, noted for its military caste and the number of military and naval leaders it has produced. He wo nhis title of Baron for distinguished services in the war against China, twelve years ago.

General Oku s slixty-two years old. After receiving a collegiate education he entered the army at the age of twenty-seven, and in 1877, when a Major, he found himself in command of the Emperor's forces in Kamamoto Castle in Southern Japane during the Satsuma rebellion. After being nearly starved he led a desperate sortie cut his way through the rebels and joined the Imperial relieving forces. For this act of valor he was promoted and decorated.

After the declaration of war against Russia in 1904 Japan hurled four great armies against the enemy in Manchuria. One of these under Gen. Nogi, besieged and took Port Arthur. Of the other three which repeatedly engaged Kuropatkin to the north, Oku commanded the one which landed near Dalny and swept up the Liaotung peninsula. Another, which landed in Corea, cleared the enemy from the Yalu River and united with Oku at Liaoyang, was commanded by General Tamemoto Kuroki, whose desperate attempt to flank Kuropatkin forced the Russians back on Mukden but failed to bag the enemy. The fourth commander was Gen. Mitchitsura Nodzu, a hero of the China war, who swung his army northward from Takusha, west of the Yalu.

These four generals operated in harmony under the direction of field Marshal Marquis Oyama and his great chief of staff, Gen. Baron Kodama, who superseded him as supreme head of the army on April 1st., of this year, and whose death made way for the promotion of Gen. Oku to the head of the General Staff.

Gen Oku, before the arrival of Oyama and Kodama, operating alone, won a series of half a dozen brilliant victories, beginning with the bloody battle of Nanshan Hill, steadily beating Kuropatkin back for 250 miles until joined by the other three armies. He never lost a fight. At Nanchan, Kaiping, Tehlisz, Tashiachou and Haiching he whipped the Russians out of the trenches.

ALMOST A SHUT OUT

Red Deer was a lunch for the Capitals at the baseball grounds Saturday evening. It was almost a shut-out for the visitors. The best they could do was fake one in the eighth innings, when Slinger made the only run. The game was a mere carricature of the real article, or of what the public was treated to in the game of a week ago with the Anacortes. The visitors will have to trim up or Bill Setly will be tempted to pick a team from the fans and give them a go. Bill befoozled several of the visitors with his sidewheel deliveries, and delighted the fans with his inimitable jocular rhodemantade. Towards the end interest in the game became dull, so dull that See. Nivan went off and lay down on the grass beside the crowd, and for charity let a fly go by that gave Red Deer the only chance to score.

Adams, as usual, put the ball over the fence, and Deeton made some good catches. Dobson on first took everything that came within his latitude and played an errorless game. Moore, for the visitors, pitched well, but the whole team was weak in batting and made many costly errors in fielding. The score:

The "Semi-ready" franchise in a town is as valuable as a public utility franchise: It gives the monopoly of merit in men's clothes.

Only one dealer in a town can sell the real "Semi-ready."

Dealers who did not get the franchise for the prosperous towns are sorry, though they declined it seven years ago on the ground that the profit fixed by the makers was a small one. They argued they could make bigger profits selling ordinary ready-mades.

The real profit in Semi-ready tailoring is the many sales made and the ease with which goods can be sold when the maker gives the guarantee bond found in every pocket of every Semi-ready garment. New customers of Semi-ready are regular patrons.

Talks on Orange Meat

(THE PURE FOOD)

Oven Perfection.

If you are a woman, you would revel in the huge ovens that cook Orange Meat. Much of the crisp deliciousness of Orange Meat is due to their matchless baking.

After the wheat has been cleaned, steam cooked, malted and flaked—the moist flakes are conveyed by automatic carriers to the ovens.

Endless steel screens carry the flakes back and forth, toasting each flake to a rich, golden brown—the final stage in our peerless process of converting a grain of wheat into the most perfect food known to science.

As the major part of every meal for thin people—dyspeptics—"bloodless" folk—those whose systems are "all run down"—and, especially for children—Orange Meat has a place that nothing else can satisfy.

A lady in Walkerton says—"Orange Meat is very wholesome. My brother at 81 years old, has taken a great liking to it, and I am glad, as it seems such a light wholesome food. I would recommend to those afflicted with stomach trouble."

At all grocers in 15c. and 25c. packages. Every 15c. package contains a coupon, good for premiums. 25c. or "Jumbo" package contains 2½ times the quantity of 15c. size. Write "Orange Meat, Kingston," for new premium catalogue.

Why everybody likes Abbey's Salt.

It is so pleasant to the taste that even children take it with pleasure.

It does not "cake" or flake on top of the water.

It effervesces slowly—may be drunk leisurely, without choking or blinding the user like seidlitz powders.

The granules all dissolve—thus the full benefit of the salt is obtained with every dose.

It is the ideal laxative and tonic to purify the blood—regulate stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels—and build up the system.

The school district in which Lacombe is situated is called "Nelson." The Advertiser explains that the reason is that a southern Alberta school district had pre-empted the name of Lacombe for their district in honor of the eminent pioneer Catholic Priest Father Lacombe before there was any school district organized at the town of Lacombe, which is also named after Father Lacombe. As there obviously could not be two school districts in Alberta called Lacombe, it became necessary for Lacombe district to select another name.

Mr. John Thomson of London was a guest at the Clarendon yesterday. Speaking to a reporter of the Free Press last evening, he said: "I have just returned from a trip to Lloydminster, where I purchased a farm of 160 acres for my youngest son, with a house and some buildings on it. I have the most perfect faith in this western country, and I now own some town lots in Lloydminster. The lake, three miles away from the town, will one day or another be of much value as a supply of pure soft water to Lloydminster. The vegetables were splendid. A more contented people it is impossible to find. I am off now first of all to Sandhurst, Ont., where I have an elder son living. Then across the Atlantic, home to England. I shall tell them what I tell you—that is the most hopeful land that I ever saw." With this, the active old gentleman jumped to his feet. "You can tell them one more thing, if you like, there is a rarely good country hotel at Lloydminster; of course, not up to a city hotel, but clean, comfortable, and the grub is good." Winnipeg Free Press.

EARLY CLOSING BY-LAW QUASHED

Magistrate Wades Decides That It Is Ultra Vires.

An important decision was rendered by Magistrate Wade on Saturday afternoon in the police court. Several shopkeepers were rummoned to appear in court for violation of the city by-law with respect to early closing. A test case was made of the charge laid against Hallier and Aldridge, fruiters and confectioners of this city.

The charge was that on the 6th day of August the said firm after 6.30 p.m. sold fruits and groveries. It was further contended that their business was not one that is exempt from the application of the early closing law as stated in clause three of the said by law.

N. D. Beck, K.C., city solicitor appeared for the prosecution. W. F. Wallbridge of Walbridge and McDonald conducted the defence.

In his argument Mr. Wallbridge said that the evidence submitted did not bring the defendent under the application of the by-law, and further the by-law itself was ultra ovies. He quotted the portion of the city charter that confers the power to pass by-laws, and showed that any by-law passed by the city should not be contrary to the general law of the province. Any by-law passed by the city council must b ereasonable. Under the by-law as it now existed there was discrimination both general and particular. He cited several precedents, one in England and one in Quebec, where the court held that the early closing by-law was "tyrannical, unjust and an interference with private rights." A similar case was cited from Ontario in the town of Amhersburg, and one that all are familiar with in this city Where Judge Scott held a similar by-law was unreasonable.

Mr. Beck contended the crux of the case lay in the nature of the powers conveyed to the city by its charter, which conveyed all the powers conferred by the municipal ordinance, otherwise the city would have less power than towns and villages, which was contrary to the intention of Parliament contrary to the intention of Parliament. He contended that the by-law did not conflict with the statutory law of the province and the right to pass such a law came by the general power conferred to make any regulation for the "peace, welfare and good Government" of the community.

In giving his judgementt the magistrate held that the by-law unjustly discriminated, and was not necessary for peace welfare and good government, and accordingly dismissed the action.

CALGARY MASON KILLED.

Calgary Herald: The first fatal building accident that has happened in Calgary for some time occurred at three o'clock yesterday afternoon at the new South Ward school house, when four stonemasons, Angus McDonald, John Roy, David Hoare and John R. Bristow, were thrown 45 feet from a scaffold, Mr. Bristow losing his life in the fall.

The scaffold was hung from the west side of the building and Bristow, McDonald and Hoare were working on it pointing stone. The accident occurred when the foreman, John Roy, lowered himself to the scaffold to examine the work of the men. His extra weight was to much for the pulley hook, which straightened out, allowing one end of the scaffold to fall, throwing all the men, with the exception of Roy to the ground.

The foreman saved himself by grasping one of the ropes. Hoare fell the 30 feet to the ground, but was not seriously injured, being able to walk to his home on 12th avenue west.

McDonald struck the ground on his back, fracturing his spine, and Drs. Gordon Cumming and Gow, who are attending him, have slight hopes of his ultimate recovery.

In the fall, Mr. Bristow fell on a large stone, causing fracture of the base of the skull, which rendered him unconscious. Further injuries were sustained by broken ribs, which pierced his lungs, causing hemorrhage of the nose and ears.

The injured men were taken to the Holy Cross hospital in Graham and Buscombe's ambulance as soon as possible after the accident, where they were attended by Dr. Gordon Cumming and Dr. Gow.

Mr. Bristow never regained consciousness after the accident, and died at a quarter to eight in the evening. He leaves a widow and three children, who reside at 508 Eighth avenue west.

Enquiry at the Holy Cross hospital just before going to press, reported the condition of Mr. McDonald to be most serious, and grave doubts were expressed as to his recovery. Even if such should be the case, his lower limbs will always be paralyzed.

The funeral of Mr. Bristow will be conducted by the Ancient Order of Foresters at half-past eight this evening, from Shaver's undertaking parlors to the C.P.R. station, from where the remains will be shipped east.

Gen. French Talks of the West

(Montreal Herald)

Major-General Sir George French, K.C.M.G., the organizer and first commander of the renowned body of rough riders and guardians of life and property, known as the Royal North West Mounted Police, arrived here yesterday afternoon, after having spent some straight and powerful. He is tall and broad shouldered, but in no sense portly. He gives the impression of one who bears his years well, and he is something over sixty. It is now some five years since he retired from active service, in the enjoyment of full pay.

"It has been the regret of my life," he remarked in the course of a conversation with the Herald at the Windsor last evening. "That I was unable to get out to South Africa, where my namesake, Lieut.-General Sir John French achieved well deserved distinction. I am continually being mistaken for him, and I have to explain that I am not him but myself. While he was carving out a name for himself in the annals of the empire I had to content myself with sending out horses."

But the General's own career has been honorable and distinguished. Away back in the early sixties he was an adjutant in the Royal Artillery at Kingston, and later he became instructor, then inspector, and eventually the first commander of the Northwest Mounted Police. In the eighties he was commandant of the Queensland forces in Australia, and for his service was accorded the thanks of both Houses of Parliament. In the early nineties he was brigadier-general of Royal Artillery in Bombay, and finally from 1898 to 1902 he was Major-General commanding the forces of New South Wales.

His conversation last evening was illuminated by the practical knowledge drawn from his experience in Canada, Australia and India, which he brought to bear upon a somewhat critical survey of developments in the Canadian Northwest.

"While admiring progress that has been made and recognizing the splendid work that has been done, I cannot help a feeling of regret at the rapidity with which the last reserve of the British race is being given up to some of the inferior races of southeastern Europe.

"In a sense, I think it would be better if the provinces had the control of their lands and immigration. The people who have to live there would then have the voice in saying who are to be their neighbors.

"I regard with the keenest satisfaction the migration of the American farmers into Canada. They have pre-eminenntly the kind of experience that is wanted to make the country go ahead. The Americans and the British and the Scandinavians, and Germans, too, are all right, but don't go too far with the others is what I would say.

"There is no land in the world so good for the people of British race as Canada. Australia has a wealth of splendid territory, but its climate is not adapted for agriculture like that of Canada.

"Australia is subject to periodical and prolonged drouths. You never know when your crops and your herds are to be ruined and devastated. Some twenty years ago there were sixty million sheep in New South Wales. Some years afterwards the drought cut them off with such appalling rigor that the number fell to twenty-seven million. Now, I believe the number has risen again to over forty million. They have just had two good years in Australia, but you can never be sure when the drouth will strike the country and spread its desolation and ruin over it.

But, apart from that, Australia, especially New South Wales, is suffering from the effects of pernicious land legislation which enables the squatters or holders of sheep and cattle ranges to acquire the best of the soil for practically nothing and now the government is buying it back from them for settlement purposes. This was a bad policy, and the state purchases, although now the only possible way of getting the land back to the people, can only be effected at a price that the farmer cannot pay and have a reasonable assurance of profit for himself owing to the uncertainty of the seasons.

"Then, in addition to that, there are the tyrannical labor laws and conditions which are actually driving good Australian capital out of the country to seek investment in England. This is because the people who have the capital fear to lay it out because the socialistic and labor parties may acquire such complete domination that property may be confiscated.

"All these dangers Canada is happily free from, and that is why I urge care in regard to immigration.

"South Africa cannot be compared with Canada as a place for British settlement. I greatly doubt whether any large part of what is now already taken up by the Boers and Cape Dutch and old English families is fit for profitable agriculture.

"I think Western Canada is going a little too strong into grain production, and no doubt in the future the people will turn their attention more to cattle, but one thing has been overlooked in Canada that has been provided for in Australia, and that is cattle routes along which the cattle can be driven in thousands by drovers to market. Cattle cannot be driven along routes that have not been recognized and reserved for that purpose. The cattle farmer in Canada is absolutely at the mercy of the railways.

I am glad to see that some three million acres of dry lands in the west are being brought under irrigation. The rivers bringing down the melted snow always ensure for Canada a plentiful supply of water. There again Canada has an advantage over Australia. Australia has no lofty mountain ranges that send down rivers of melted ice and snow that may be stored up to water the arid regions when the drought comes. Irrigation there is necessarily most costly and the burden of it falls, of course, upon the present occupiers.

"In India they have the most splendid irrigation system in the world, but the irrigation works do not impose a present burden. Moreover, the rivers of India bring the waater down from the lofty snow-clad mountains and render possible the diversion of the water through canals and so make fruitful productive plains of what would be parched and unprolific desert.

"Of course, labor in India is cheap, and it is on that account easier to carry on irrigation works there than in either Australia or Canada.

"It is to Canaada that I look for the highest development of the rate, and that is why I would like to impress what I have said upon the people. I have nothing whatever to do with politics, and I give my opinions as one who has a deep interest in Canada's welfare."

A NORWEGIAN WOLF-HUNT

By George L. Hamilton.

With snow covering our guns from breech to muzzle, we took aim, and poured two streams of fire and smoke through the storm. The heads of the two wolves must have been riddled with shot, and, as they tumbled over, their companions fell upon them, tearing their flesh and fighting each other for the choice mouthfuls.

We reloaded quirkly, then, putting down our weapons, worked with frantic strength to make a sharp angle in our "covered way."

The two dead wolves were devoured so quickly that we had not succeeded in fully concealing ourselves when the pack came raging so close upon us that we were obliged once more to turn and fire.

The creatures had rushed directly up to the mouth of our retreat, but stopped there, as if afraid to make a plunge at us under such mysterious circumstances. The powder-smoke from our discharge must almost have blackened their sharp noses, and again two of the yelling mass fell dead. There was no time for reloading. We had only to dig for our lives, and when the second cannibal feast was over the angle in our fortress had become sufficient to hide us.

Stopping the mouth of our extemporized cave with a thick wall of snow, we continued the work of excavation for some distance, filling the space behind us as we went.

At length we succeeded in making a room five or six feet square, and high enough to admit of our standing upright, for the snow would yield to the weight of our bodies as we pressed against it, and thus we could enlarge our place of refuge without adding to the loose material.

We had now become sufficiently warm, and there was no longer the least danger of freezing, but our situation was still an extremely anxious one. How long would the wolves remain in the neighborhood? And what would Otto's family think had become of us?

We heard the pack above our heads, and judged that scores of the fierce animals must be in the drift, howling forth their disappointment. What if some of them were accidentally to break through and come down upon us? Of this there could be little danger, but we were in a position to calculate all the chances.

To while away the time we occasionally worked on the walls of our house, trusting wholly to the sense of touch, as the little room was pitch dark.

"Here's a rock!" said Otto at length "It's as high as my head, and I think it makes a kind of shelf from the main ledge. Way, I know where we're now! I hve been here many a time. This is a shelf, with one end slanting to the ground. The rock above overhangs it so that there is a covered place about eight feet wide, but of course it's full of snow now, and—Hello! look out! the wolves have broken through and are coming down on us!"

There was a noise as of some creature floundering in the snow, and Otto started back against me so violently that we both fell headlong. Something of the animal kind rolled against us, and our dungeon seemed to be full of struggling life.

In the darkness and confusion we kicked and pushed, expecting every moment to feel the steel-like jaws upon our flesh. Yet no gleam of light had been let in upon us by the breaking through of the snow, if this really had happened.

"Sheep! sheep!" he yelled. "I've got hold of a sheep!"

My own hands were just then upon another of the intruders, and I could feel that it wore such clothing as nature does not give to the wolf.

In an instant the truth flashed upon us both. We had found the lost flock! The animals must have strayed to the ledge before the commencement of the first storm, and, ascending the slant shelf, had huddled upon it in a compact mass.

Some of them had been crowded near the edge, so that in moving their feet they had stepped off the rock close to the side of our excavation, and, falling through its walls, landed upon our snow floor. We found that three of the woolly creatures had come down and could now plainly hear sounds which indicated the whereabouts of the others.

All that day and the following night the wolves could be heard above us, but at last they appeared to have departed. We knew, however, nothing of the succession of night and day, until forcing our way out, to find the storm passed and the morning sun shining clearly.

As we ventured forth the night almost blinded us.

"We may as well start first as last," said Otto. "The wolves have gone off to look up a breakfast elsewhere; but they will return toward night, if not before."

The distance to be travelled was now only two miles, but ere the route was traversed we met Otto's father, and the others who had been our companions in the hunt. Mr. Ottersen, feeling uneasy lest we might have been caught out in the storm, was on his way to the dwelling of his far-off neighbor to ascertain the truth.

We were soon at the Ottersen farmhouse, and the feelings of Otto's mother and sisters upon learning of our narrow escape can be imagined.

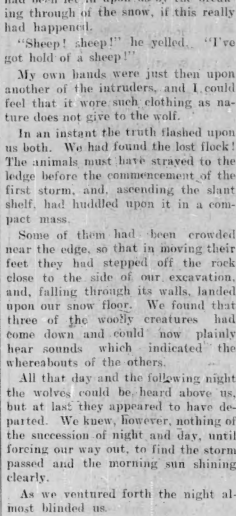

It would, of course, be impossible for the present, to remove the two hundred sheep; but Mr. Ottersen thought of an expedient by which he could provide for their safety and comfort, and, taking axes and shovels, our party again started out.

Shavelling the snow from the animals, we proceeded to yard them in by a stout fence, the posts of which were planted firmly in the drift. It was then roofed over with timbers and boughs, upon which a layer of snow was piled for warmth.

The sheep, being thus secured from the wolves, were fed bountifully with grain, which we had brought for the purpose on our shoulders.

In this position the flock remained for the whole winter, one hundred and ninety coming out in fair conditions in the spring. But our excursions to carry them food had in the meantime been many and perilous.

I remained with the hospitable Ottersens until the following May, and then, leaving Otto a happy farmer boy, returned home, never to forget my impressions of Norwegian life.

SHOT AT POLICEMAN.

(Special to the Bulletin)

Port Arthur, Ont., Aug. 11.—An attempt was made at an early hour this morning on the life of Ivan Thorloe, night officer. The attempt at murder tok place about 1 o'clock this morning on the corner of Bay and Cumberland streets. The officer was on his beat and came across a drunken man lying on the street. When he attempted to pick him up he heard two shots, and looking around, saw the figure of a man. Leaving the drunken man, he ran after the man whom he thought was the would-be murderer and who had taken to his heels. He followed him to the corner of Bay and Algoma strets, where he captured him. He gave the name of Gus Hill. In his possession was found a revolver with three blank shells, a loaded shell and two chambers unloaded. The prisoner was landed in the cells and this morning was arraigned before Magistrate Dobie, charged with shooting to kill Ivan Thorloe. After hearing the evidence of Thorloe and William Hill, night-watchman at the Canadian Northern hotel, the magistrate enlarged the case until Monday at 10 o'clock, to allow the prisoner to procure counsel.

City News

BIG SHOW COMING.

Next Monday afternoon and night, Burch and Reiss' world's greatest shows will exhibit in this city, under large waterproof tents which will be located centrally. These shows are absolutely new to the west, this being their first appearance here. The aggregation numbers upwards of 350 performing animals. Among the animal actors will be found a herd of camels and dromedaries, ponies, dogs, monkeys, goats, pigs, mules, ant-eaters, llamas, zebras, bos indicus, pumas, birds, emeus, cassowarys and other rare and costly animals. In conjunction with the great animal wonderland will be seen exciting races of all kinds and descriptions; troupes of acrobats, gymnasts, aerialists, equiliberists, bicyclists, and funny clowns by the score. A special feature of these shows and one that the management lays particular stress upon is Gregory's Royal Italian Banda Rossa, which has been especially engaged for this tour. This organization of celebrated musicians has only appeared in concerts in the leading theatres of the country and at prices ranging to one dollar. They will give free concerts each day with these shows before the performances and will present among others the masterpieces of the world's best composers. After the afternoon performances the 100 Shetland ponies will be turned over to the children attending the performance, and each and every child desiring, may ride to it's heart's content, absolutely free. A grand street parade will be given on the morning of the exhibition, at which time the entire company of over 350 animal actors, decked out in their gay attire and trappings will be seen. The management claim that this is the most novel and elaborate street demonstration ever seen with a tented exhibition. There will be about 25 dens and cages of rare animals, besides all of the led stock, and the funny clowns, and the great Banda Rossa.
